A LOOK AT BOOKS

Joseph V. Roberts The Technological Thing
Versus The Good Human Life

This book, formerly titled 'Letters From a Catholic Dissenter', views the triumphant march of technological industrialization as being the deepest-lying cause of the recent 'auto-demolition' of the Roman Catholic Church--as well as of the breakdown of religion, morality, and societal stability, everywhere.

According to the penetrating analysis developed in this provocative book, the Technological Thing and the Good Human Life cannot co-exist, the widespread sentimental opinion to the contrary notwithstanding. If the good human life is to be possible on earth, it must somehow be consciously re-instituted, and the contemporary technological phenomenon must disappear in the form it has now--that is, its present spirit and structure, and many of its results, must be rejected. Some suggestions are given as to how a start might be made toward the accomplishment of these goals.

SLEEPING BEAUTY

By

Gail Stone

Ships at full sail,
ride the seas without fail
All are named in style
like pyramids on the Nile
There are today, ships of the air,
who have quite a flair
One such ship on high,
is the "Sleeping Beauty", ready to fly.
This ship is akin to ancient clipper ship
Because air is used, not water for a dip.
A woman's name is usual
on craft, for grace alone.
A clipper ship of the air,
is nothing to bemoan
For this, "Sleeping Beauty", leaves a wake.

What's News—

ARE YOU READY ? ? ? ?

I Thes. 4:17 "Then we which are alive shall be caught up together with them in the clouds to meet the Lord in the Air".

Oct. 10, 1975 Newport, Oregon

According to police there are at least 20 people missing, all of whom attended a UFO meeting. The missing people were advised by their speakers to discard all things of material value including their children if they did not care to remain here on Earth. They were guaranteed a better place to go by their speakers where there is no war, fear, and sickness.

One mother attending the meeting left behind several children. The father has since appealed to the local court for custody of the children which has been awarded to him.

The 10 most baffling UFO cases of the last 30 years

TEN of the most baffling cases ever reported provide new evidence that UFOs not only exist — but defy capture by even the most sophisticated U.S. defense forces.

Raymond E. Fowler, the renowned investigator for the Center for UFO studies in Evanston, Ill., whose book The Andreasson Affair stunned even the most hard-nosed skeptics, says: "We have documents that show UFOs are able to penetrate air space over highly-classified military bases, and perform in these restricted areas with seemingly no hindrance or defense against them."

"On occasion, our craft have tried to catch these things and were in no way able to catch or down them."

In his new book, Casebook Of A UFO Investigator (Prentice-Hall, $10.95), Fowler describes 10 incidents which he learned of through the Freedom of Information Act and other sources, that support his theory. Here are the details:

● During routine missile tests over a NATO base near Italy, the missiles exploded almost immediately after being launched, as if they "were hitting an invisible barrier in the sky."

When films of the test were developed, officials discovered a distinct disc-shaped object with a domed top hovering near the path of the missiles.

As soon as the missiles drew near, a laser-like ray shot out of the craft and disintegrated them. Missiles launched in a different direction were unharmed.

● In August, 1973, the Air Force launched a Minuteman missile from the Vandenberg Air Force Base in Northern California. As the nosecone separated from the third stage of the missile and zeroed in on its target, radar picked up an inverted saucer-shaped object to the right and above the nosecone, appearing to observe it.

● In the spring of 1966, a missile combat crew commander and his fellow operator at Malmstrom Air Force Base near Great Falls, Mont., were stunned to see that 10 lights on the underground command console indicated a fault in 10 separate missiles.

Double-checking the situation, they confirmed that each of their 10 missiles was in a no-go fault condition, meaning none could be launched. Nothing like that had ever happened before.

Telephone communication revealed that above-ground personnel reported seeing UFOs precisely at the moment the missiles failed.

● Less than a year later, in March, 1967, a full flight of 10 different missiles at the Malmstrom AFB again became inoperative. Radar again confirmed the presence of a UFO.

● Only 15 days before the second Malmstrom incident, the 91st Strategic Missile Wing of the Minot AFB in North Dakota appeared to be invaded by a UFO when Aerospace Defense Command radar tracked an unknown target descending on Minuteman missile installations.

Strike teams were alerted and sighted a metallic disc-shaped craft ringed with bright flashing lights moving slowly over the suspicious area. Three armed teams in trucks pursued the alien vehicle as it maneuvered, stopped and hovered 500 ft. off the ground. The strike teams had orders to capture it undamaged should it land.

F-106 fighter planes were awaiting orders to launch an attack and base operations decided to scramble the jets when suddenly the UFO climbed straight up and streaked away at incredible speed.

● During October and November 1975, several major Air Force bases were easily penetrated by UFOs, including Loring AFB in Maine, Wurtsmith AFB near Lake Huron and the 24th NORAD (North American Air Defense Command) near Great Falls, Mont.

During these sightings, the "unknown" objects were tracked by the Air Force and after at least one of the sightings in the 24th NORAD region, two F-106 jet fighters scrambled out of Great Falls, Mont., to intercept the objects but were unable to do so.

● A retired Air Force master sergeant who was chief investigator of a UFO incident in June 1963, waited 20 years before telling of a F-94C jet that attempted to intercept unknown objects near Otis AFB in Massachusetts.

"According to the pilot's sworn testimony his engine quit functioning and his entire electrical system failed at 1,500 ft. The pilot ordered his radar operator to bail out and then jettisoned the canopy and bailed out himself."

Although the crippled plane should have crashed, neither it nor the radar operator were ever found — the jettisoned canopy was.

● In August, 1974, UFOs interrupted a key missile test at Kwajalein atoll, an island in the Pacific Ocean.

A cluster of UFOs appeared on the meteorologist's radarscope. The countdown was put on hold until the UFOs left the impact area.

● Flying from St. Louis to Dallas, the a commercial DC-8 cargo plane was near McAlester, Okla., when the pilot spotted another craft 5,000 feet to his right. Suddenly, it shot straight up like an elevator, turned toward the DC-8, and took a position slightly above it 900 feet away.

Then it descended straight down and took up a position just below the plane's left wing. The captain and his crew looked down into the dimly-lit transparent dome on top of the UFO and saw several shadowy figures moving inside the canopy. Then the object suddenly moved out from under the plane and sped away.

● On June 18, 1981, there was a sighting by a pilot and co-pilot flying a private plane near New Haven, Conn. As it passed the private plane, the object looked like a highly-polished, stainless steel disc with its outside perimeter rotating. The pilot gave chase at 200 mph but the object easily outdistanced them and quickly disappeared as a speck over the horizon.

CASEBOOK OF A UFO INVESTIGATOR

by Raymond E. Fowler
AUTHOR OF THE ANDREASSON AFFAIR

CASEBOOK OF A UFO INVESTIGATOR Raymond E. Fowler

Was a crashed UFO conveyed — under tight security — from somewhere in the Mexican desert to Wright-Patterson Air Force Base, where it presumably remains to this day? Several independent witnesses claim they saw the original crashed "saucer," and the preserved bodies of dead aliens found inside the craft.

Uncovering such testimony, obtaining affidavits and interviews, and determining if the accounts are fact or fiction — these are only a few of Raymond E. Fowler's duties as a UFO investigator. Here, in CASEBOOK OF A UFO INVESTIGATOR, the author recounts startling (often funny) "encounters" with wild geese, ball lightning, the planet Jupiter, and a few not-so-masterful hoaxes. But he also cites truly unexplained cases with terrified eye witnesses, baffling physical evidence — and accounts of abductions that can be recalled only under hypnosis. And, as he reveals, some "haunted witnesses" seem to be under continued surveillance — by an agency of the U.S. government!

Illustrated with photos of genuine "unknowns" as well as identifiable flying objects, CASEBOOK OF A UFO INVESTIGATOR is an explosively controversial, ultimately frightening work by one of the most visible and respected names in UFO research.

Since 1961, RAYMOND E. FOWLER has been working with NICAP, MJFON and local police departments to evaluate reports of unidentified flying objects. His fieldwork formed the basis of the best-selling Incident at Exeter, and he investigated the extraordinary abduction case recounted in his own book The Andreasson Affair, to be a major motion picture released through Universal Studios.

HOW TO BUILD A FLYING SAUCER

And Other Proposals in Speculative Engineering

T. B. Pawlicki

What if we really wanted to build the pyramids and Stonehenge with Bronze Age materials? Work out a new model of the atom that would allow us to transmute iron into gold? Discover a means of time travel? Demonstrate Einstein's Theory of Relativity with a pinch of salt on the kitchen table? Tap free energy from the ground, or the atmosphere? And, of course, construct a craft that behaves just like the oft-reported UFOs?

Now T. B. Pawlicki unearths known technology and forgotten inventions (including several registered with the U.S. Patent Office) to show how many "impossible" feats of technology might actually be accomplished! Included throughout are simple demonstrations and experiments the readers can perform to establish Pawlicki's principles for themselves—and accounts of real-life prototypes (including the author's first try at an anti-gravity engine).

Profusely illustrated with diagrams and line drawings, this is a speculative feast for the armchair physicist, the science fiction buff, and the insatiably curious.

T. B. PAWLICKI is a former contractor, shipping clerk, inventor and writer whose articles have been published in many magazines and newspapers here and abroad.

UFO Reported In Tewksbury

Power Interruption Coincides With Sighting

By Liz Fuerst

A Tewksbury Township family notified the state police headquarters at Flemington last Tuesday night that it witnessed a UFO glide noiselessly over its Felmley Road home.

Pat and Earl Richards, Tewksbury residents for the past 21 years, said lights in the neighborhood flickered as the object passed slowly overhead and some houses had their electricity go off for as much as two hours.

According to Mrs. Richards, a social worker in the Ewing Township public schools, repair crews from the Jersey Central Power and Light Company said a transformer had burnt out for no apparent reason.

The Richards and their two sons, Earl Jr., 28, and Wayne, 22, were attracted to lights outside their home at about 9:30 p.m. last Tuesday after their electricity dimmed and the television went off.

Earl Jr., who works for Herr's potato chips, said he looked overhead and saw dozens of green, blue and red lights "buzzing" in the southern sky. According to the younger Richards, they appeared to hover around a huge airborne vehicle, itself covered with hundreds of lights.

"The big ship was simply enormous," said Richards, who estimated it to be larger than four or five Boeing 747 planes put together. "It wasn't round," he went on. "It was kind of elongated and had an outline of wings. To tell you the truth, it looked just like the Battlestar Galactica that you see on the television show."

Mrs. Richards said she saw the headlights of the larger vehicle heading toward Hunterdon County from the Somerville area soon after she walked out on her front lawn. "At first, I thought it was just a star," she said. "But the lights got closer and closer. The thing was flying at the same level as a small aircraft would fly — not as high up as a jet."

All four family members watched the object glide overheard without making a noise. They estimated it to be going very slowly — at about the same speed as a plane is going when it is ready to land.

"If it was a plane," said the younger Richards, "and it was getting ready to land, I don't know where it would have landed around here."

Mrs. Richards, who once worked as the nurse at Tewksbury's Saw Mill School, said she called the state police at Flemington to report the incident. She doesn't know if there were other sightings that evening.

Later in the week, she reported the sighting to the United States Air Force's center for UFO information. "I'm not saying that what we saw was a space ship," said Mrs. Richards.

"We just don't know what it was. We know what it wasn't, though — not a hot air balloon or a low flying plane. It was just an unidentified object. And I'll tell you things around here haven't been the same since last Tuesday."

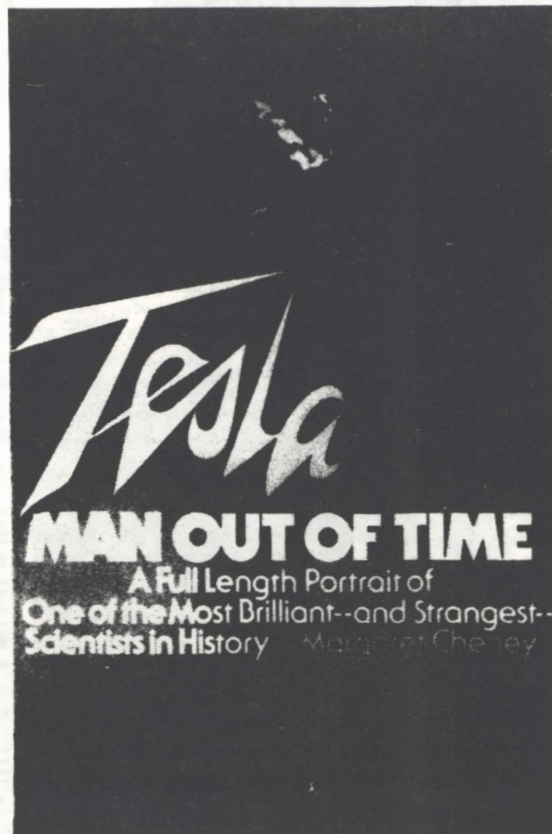

There have been other reputed UFO sightings in Tewksbury Township in recent years. In 1975, a string of homeowners on Hell Mountain, about five miles from the Richards home, thought they saw an object hovering at treetop height, but they were unable to identify the craft. Property owners on Bissell Road near the Clinton Township line have also reported seeing UFOs in the area. Campers and fishermen have witnessed purported UFOs at Round Valley Reservoir, too.

A HUGE unidentified flying object passed over the home of Pat and Earl Richards of Tewksbury Township last Tuesday and the family says things haven't been the same since. The sighting was reported to the center the U.S. Air Force maintains as a central clearing house for UFO information.

TESLA

Man Out of Time

Margaret Cheney

Here is the first in-depth biography of one of the strangest, most important, least recognized scientific geniuses in history, Nicola Tesla. In TESLA: Man Out of Time, journalist and writer Margaret Cheney reveals it was Tesla, not Thomas Edison, who invented the alternating electrical current that powers our society... It was Tesla, not Marconi, who invented the wireless... It was Tesla who developed the fundamentals of radar, missile guidance systems, microwave technology and the "magnetic bottle" effects used in the control of atomic fusion... Tesla who produced balls of lightning and earthquakes in his laboratory and was unquestionably one of the most unusual and important scientists of our time.

Through a fascinating portrait of this colorful, classic "mad genius," TESLA: Man Out of Time at last sets the record straight, giving full appreciation to Tesla's lifetime of scientific pioneering. From his early work in the Edison lab through his years of celebrity as America's "Wonderful Wizard of Ohms" to his eventual decline into a pigeon-loving recluse, Cheney chronicles a stream of discoveries and inventions that included the first atom smasher, neon and fluorescent lighting, and turbine engines so advanced they have never been improved upon. Indeed, many of his research projects involved concepts so advanced that they are still hardly understood, which is one of the reasons his papers were seized by the FBI when Tesla died, in relative obscurity, during World War II.

Illustrated with 24 pages of rare photographs, TESLA is a riveting journey into the mind and life of the brilliantly gifted eccentric who was Edison's enemy, Mark Twain's friend, J.P. Morgan's client, and hero and mentor to scores of the 20th century's most famous scientists.

Dr. Wm. Gordon Allen claims that Tesla developed his will to such an extent that he was able to pull designs of his inventions out of space. Tesla developed his will by using mental exercises somewhat like those of Ignatius Loyola (MANRESA: The Spiritual Exercises of St. Ignatius -- $10.00). The titles below are in print (soft covers). Chinese are shocked by sightings of UFOs

AMERICA'S leading UFO expert is to visit China to investigate what may be the world's most-witnessed appearances of flying saucers.

Dr. Allen Hynek, scientific director of the Center for UFO Studies in Evanston, Ill., has accepted an invitation to Peking by a special commission that is now gathering details on about 100 separate sightings.

At least one of them involved hundreds of thousands of people on whole villages and towns over five provinces in south-central and east China reported seeing "saucer and cigar-shaped" objects flashing through the sky at mind-boggling speeds.

Dr. Hynek, a professor emeritus of astronomy at Northwestern University in Illinois and former Air Force UFO consultant, said: "This is something new and potentially exciting."

Meanwhile, Lu Wung of the New China News Agency's Washington, D.C., bureau said: "Our government in Peking has set up a special commission to investigate this phenomena."

Dr. David S. Bean, an expert on Eastern defense matters and a security adviser to President Johnson, added: "One of the most interesting aspects of the sightings is that they did not take place near the Chinese border."

"When I first heard about them I thought that Soviet M-25 reconnaissance planes might be responsible. But no foreign aircraft would venture that far into Chinese territory. Apparently, there's no question of the Chinese Air Force being responsible."

NEW

"These women are essentially stable, rational, and honest. They shy away from publicity. None had any interest in UFOs. Yet their stories are more bizarre than those of the publicity-hound contactees...."

Ann Druffel and D. Scott Rogo

On a chill March night in 1953, Sara Shaw and Jan Whitley's isolated Tujunga Canyon cabin was bathed in a blue oscillating light. When it vanished, they were horrified to see that over two hours had elapsed. Over 20 years later, under hypnotic regression, Jan and Sara independently recalled being taken by entities "dressed in one-piece black body stockings" aboard a "Saturn-shaped" UFO.

But further investigation soon discovered a series of strange events. When Jan moved in with a new roommate several years later, alien presences visited them repeatedly. And friends of Jan's new roommate experienced still other encounters that continued through the 1970s to the present day.

Now for the first time, a veteran parapsychologist and an experienced UFO researcher have joined forces to investigate the original multiple-witness abduction and its amazing aftermath. Druffel and Rogo find an eerie con-

DOOMSDAY 1999 A.D. CHARLES BERLITZ

Is the human race poised on the brink of Apocalypse? Will cosmic collisions, nuclear catastrophes, or volcanic eruptions reduce the earth to a burned-out cinder? Charles Berlitz has the answers. The best-selling author of The Bermuda Triangle now investigates those theories and prophecies that herald the world's imminent destruction, and arrives at an alarming new prediction — DOOMSDAY 1999 A.D.!

Throughout recorded history, civilizations have risen only to crumble to dust. Many have left written records of the catastrophes that befell them, while others, like Atlantis, have vanished without a trace. Now, one of the world's foremost experts on unusual natural phenomena sifts through ancient records and present-day scientific data to foretell of a destruction far more devastating and total than ever before imagined.

The Complete Books of Charles Fort

The Book of the Damned · Lo!
Wild Talents · New Lands

Did beings from outer space visit earth in the past . . . are the various objects seen in the sky (flying saucers, in modern terminology) evidences of their visits?

What is the explanation of falls of frogs, falls of fishes, falls of seashells, which have been recorded from time to time? Are they explainable in terms of selective tornadoes, or are they evidences of a planetary mechanism that we do not know?

How can we account for all the inexplicable astronomical observations that have been made in the past: lights on the moon in the crater Plato, extension of lunar rays, bodies between Mercury and the Sun, appearances seen leaving the planet Mars?

How can we answer reports of strange animals, disappearances of men from open sight, curious structures in the snow, talents like teleportation and telekinesis?

These are the "damned," by which the late Charles Fort meant all the wide range of mysteries that are ignored by orthodox science or explained away improperly.

Charles Fort worked full time for twenty-seven years at the British Museum and the New York Public Library researching scientific journals, old periodicals, newspapers, and manuscript accounts to gather material on phenomena from the borderlands between science and fantasy. His researches appeared in four books, The Book of the Damned, New Lands, Lo!, and Wild Talents.

Complete reprinting of The Book of the Damned (1919), New Lands (1923), Lo! (1931), Wild Talents (1932). New introduction by Damon Knight. Index to all four volumes. Total of x + 1126pp. 5 3/8 x 8 1/2.
